INTRODUCTION

The Mennonite Year Book and Directory herewith brings greetings to all into whose hands it may chance to fall or who may have occasion to peruse its pages, whether in search of information, inspiration, or even if it should chance to be merely out of curiosity as to the nature of its contents. To all it seeks to be helpful.

An effort has been made to include within these covers something of a general summary of the work that has been done during the past year by some of the representative organizations of the Church. Mission, Educational, and Relief work each have their share of attention, and the various phases of our work along these lines are treated by those who should be in a position to know the facts and the problems concerning which they write.

A new feature, perhaps, is the Calendar of Events, found on the first few pages following this one. The editor believes that such a compendium of the outstanding happenings of the year should be of general interest to a great many of our people. Unfortunately, because only a few of those who were asked to contribute dates and incidents for this part of the work responded, the events which are chronicled are perhaps not as inclusive as they should be, and many important ones have no doubt been omitted. We trust that in future editions this may to a large extent be avoided, partly thru a more generous response to the requests for this sort of material, and partly thru earlier notification by the editor of those who will be expected to furnish the data for this feature of the Year Book. Our special thanks are due Bro. L. J. Heatwole and Bro. Simon Gingerich for their part in this work.

We are grateful to the many kind friends who have so freely furnished the information for the statistics and tables which are contained herein. Without your kind co-operation it would have been impossible to produce a work of this kind at all. Unfortunately, however, not all who were asked to do so responded, and of those who did, not all were as clear in their information and statements as they should have been. In many cases the editor had to decide between two reports of the same event which differed materially as to some of the significant facts. In the absence of any information concerning certain statistics or facts, all of which were duly requested, the editor had to venture a guess, or simply continue last year's report, though in many cases he felt morally certain that they were not absolutely correct. And again, the editor is decidedly human and so is liable to err. It is quite possible that some facts which were correctly reported may be wrongly stated herein, and for this we beg your kind indulgence.

One thing more. If you see mistakes, and no doubt you will, be so kind as to report them for correction, and do not merely talk about them. In other words, give us constructive criticism. Your help and cooperation will not only be a favor to the editor and the publishers, but will make the work more useful to all who come in contact with it.

That the Cause of Christ may be strengthened, and that His Kingdom may be extended, and that His name may be glorified through this work is the wish and prayer of all who are responsible for its publication and distribution.

A Bit of History

The followers of Jesus Christ suffered many persecutions during the first century. There were but few heretics among them. As time went on persecutions became less frequent, and in the days of Constantine Christianity became the religion of state. There were some, however, who refused to follow the popular current and remained separate from the state church. At different times they were known by different names —Novatians, Catharists, Albigenses, Waldenses, etc.

Fierce persecutions from the Roman Church kept these faithful Christians scattered, and for a thousand years the true Christian Church was under a cloud. But with the awakening at the beginning of the sixteenth century we hear the voice of Krebel, Philips, Blaurock, and others who, because they held to the Bible doctrine of baptism on confession of faith, became known as Anabaptists. A congregation was organized in 1525 at Zurich, Switzerland, which was the beginning of a movement which spread over central and northern Europe. Later, because of the leadership and great organizing ability of one Menno Simons in Holland, those people became known as "Mennonites."

In 1683, in response to an invitation from William Penn, a colony of Mennonites settled at Germantown, Pa., and a few decades later a considerable body of them settled in what is now Lancaster county, of the same state. Mennonites are now found in nearly all the states of the union, in many of the provinces in Canada, in several countries in Europe, and mission work is carried on in a number of heathen lands.

Unfortunately there have been a number of divisions in the Church, which fact, coupled with lack of interest at times, has seriously retarded the growth of the Church. But the interest is rising. Among the main body of Mennonites there are now fifteen conferences in America, reaching from ocean to ocean, having organized work in India and South America. God speed the day when the whole Church will again be united in faith and service, as one body marching forward in the great work of evangelizing the world.—Tract.

THE WORK OF THE MISSION BOARD IN 1922

By S. C. Yoder, Secretary

The year 1922 opened with prospects of increased activities all along the line. All the furloughed missionaries had returned to India and the forces were strengthened by the addition of four new workers. Six new workers were added to the forces in South America raising the staff of full time missionaries to ten in that field. The City and Home Missions were all supplied with a corps of workers so that the beginning of the year found them ready to extend their borders and intensify their activities in their respective fields.

India

Early in the year Bro. Friesen and family and Dr. Cooprider, now Sister Freisen, returned to America for their furlough. Since they are at home they have rendered the cause valuable service by soliciting funds for India.

The work is growing and the need for funds with which to complete the churches which have been begun and to erect others where they are so badly needed, is the most urgent need of the field as the year closes.

In order to keep pace with the fast growing work, the India Mission asks that from two to four new workers be sent to India each year for the next five years. This is a very conservative request and should be granted if possible. At the last meeting of the Board held at Wauseon, Ohio, the Executive Committee was authorized to send two couples if the proper arrangements can be made and finances for their support are available. To date finances for their equipment, passage and support have not been supplied and the Committee does not feel justified to proceed in the face of present conditions. Prayers are still ascending that the work may not lag because of these conditions

South America

In South America a new station has been opened at Carlos Casares, a Jewish Center, with Brother and Sister Lauver in charge. From every quarter comes the report of opportunities for the opening of work and of souls saved.

A new church has been authorized at Pehuajo the central station and is now in the process of construction. Funds are badly needed for a new station at Trenque Lauquen. It is the sincere wish of the Board that this may be supplied in order that the splendid work may go forward.

The workers on the field request that an additional missionary family be sent before the close of the year. This was authorized at the last annual meeting and it is still the hope of the Board that it may be granted before the close of the fiscal year.

On account of the health conditions of Sister Shank, a furlough has been granted them beginning with March 1st, 1923. It is hoped that the sojourn in the homeland may prove beneficial and in due time they may again take up their duties on the field.

City Missions and Charitable Institutions

A new station at Portland, Oregon, has been added to the list of City Missions. Bro. and Sister Allen Good are in charge. Already reports of good interest are beginning to reach us. A. M. Eash and wife are again in charge of the 26th St. Mission in Chicago since Bro. Eash's return from the Near East.

The Home for the Aged at Eureka, Ill, was dedicated the past year and is now housing 17 inmates. Bro. J. D Smith has been appointed Superintendent, and Sister Mattie Schertz, Matron.

Present Needs

Finances. The most urgent need as the year closes is for finances to support the work and send out and support new workers. The work in both India and South America has been expanding faster than the church has increased her giving so that now funds to adequately supply the needs are short. Relief of the suffering of the world has diverted into other channels some of the funds which ordinarily would have gone to missions but we are sure that the church has not yet by any means reached her capacity nor filled her obligations in the line of giving and we also have confidence that as the need becomes known the church as always will respond and supply the need.

When the work was opened in th foreign field many prayers from the entire church ascended to the throne for its success. God has answered our prayers and granted our requests with the result that there are multitudes in the "Valley of Decision." It would be tragic indeed if they should be lost when "Our Barns are filled with plenty," and we have to spare.

Workers. The greatest need both in the home land and in the foreign field seems to be for men who are able to take charge of stations and direct work. The Lord has always supplied the need and we are still relying on Him to lead out those who can fill the places.

Prayer. If all the financial needs were supplied and workers fully qualified for all the places open were available there would still be one thing lacking if the entire church would not make daily intercession for the Board and those under her direction. May all who read this remember the work daily.

Plans for the Future

The Board endeavors to follow the wishes of the church and the direction of the spirit in planning for the future, and earnestly solicits the prayers of all the Saints that God may direct.

At the last Annual Meeting the Board approved a budget of $35,000 for building and extension work in India and South America, in addition to its regular expenditures for carrying on the work. Part of this has been raised and the Committee is still hopeful that all may be supplied before the close of the fiscal year.

Conclusion

Looking over the past year we may say that we have done what we could but perhaps not all that we ought. As long as there are souls seeking the Kingdom and others who know not the Gospel we ought not to be satisfied. The first business of every one, who has learned to know the Lord, should be the Lord's work. May the last days of the closing year and all the days of the New Year ring with missionary messages from every pulpit and calls go out from every altar, in church and home, arousing all of the "King's Sons and Daughters" for the work and if the Lord should tarry till another year is over He may say "They have done what they could."

Kalona, Iowa.

"May we know the Throne of Grace as a refuge and as the center of our supreme delight; may we tarry there without weariness and look upon Thy face without fear."

SOME THOUGHTS ON OUR EDUCATIONAL WORK

A. E. Kreider

The educational work of the Mennonite Church is engaging the serious thoughts of many of its members. Among the ministry and the laity there are those interested in this question. The interest in education has been increasing during the last twenty years. The causes for this increase are various. Perhaps the first cause lies in the very character of the Mennonite people. A vigorous, thrifty, active people, such as the Mennonites, will quite readily adopt an educational program of some form. During the last several decades much emphasis has been given by the states to public instruction. We have been influenced by this marked trend. There have also been forces at work within the Church. There have been and are now those among the ministry who encourage education. There is also a growing group of young men and women within the church who have enjoyed the benefits of education. These are a factor in the present growth of educational interest. There are others who are taking an interest in the educational work because it is one of the present problems. It cannot be denied that there exists within the church, an active interest in education.

Those interested in promoting church schools are those who have the welfare of the young people in mind. Many agree that we have reached a point in our history when we are obliged to make some provision for the educational needs of our young people. Schools have arisen within the church and are now maintained by the church because they are regarded as essential to the welfare of our children,—the young men and the young women. The opinion is growing that this need is one that cannot be ignored. Because of this there is a growing number who are willing to lend their support to the schools maintained by the church.

Those who consider such an important problem as that of education must not only think of the present but also of the future. What will be the part that education plays in the future? No one is able to predict. However a few conditions that now exist must be reckoned with. It is a fact that public education is growing. It is becoming increasingly more difficult to enter into the work of the industrial and business world without the advantages of an education. The young man or young woman without the discipline acquired in a good school is handicapped. Many fathers, and fathers in the church, are saying that they do not want their sons and daughters to face the handicaps they themselves have faced because of a meager education. Whether we approve of the present trend in the industrial or business world makes little difference. The fact remains that the condition of our day is such that the young man or young woman who has not had the advantage of a good education is placed at a disadvantage in life. If this last contention is granted as a truthful description of conditions it is quite proper to say that the number of young people in the church who are going to seek an education will steadily increase. Our concern is to hold these young people as loyal and active members in the church. But this would be quite a vain hope if the church is not in sympathy with education. In other words the Mennonite Church is obliged to take a sympathetic and also an active interest in education. If the vigorous and aggressive young people do not find an intelligent interest in education within the church, the majority, I fear, will be lost to the church. To the writer it does not appear as a question whether we will or will not encourage education. If we as a church would live and grow and bear our share of the responsiblity of the Christian Church we must encourage education.

It is also in place to suggest the way in which education will contribute to the future work of our denomination. The Mennonite people rightly think that they have a message for mankind. The Mennonite Church cherishes certain principles. It is proper to ask, is the Mennonite Church presenting these Gospel principles to the world? Is it not our obligation to bear testimony to the world on such questions as peace and simplicity? But our testimony to be effective must be intelligently presented. Again the fact faces us that if we would in the most effective way be a light unto the world we must rely on educated men and women to present the claims of our distinctive ideals of the Christian life. The writer also ventures the opinion that those who will be the ablest defenders of evangelical religion are those who, other things being equal, have had the advantages of training. Each age has its dangerous tendencies. In order to counteract intelligently certain dangerous tendencies in Christian thought at the present, a proper type of education must be fostered.

There are many within the church who hold the conviction that our young people deserve the very best in educational privileges. Any one who has met and worked with our young people is convinced that we have a great asset in them. They are a noble group. Their home training has been of a wholesome character. Our young people are blessed with the virtue of industry and the desire to make progress. They are young people who have their full share of native powers. Such young people deserve the best educational opportunities. We should not be satisfied until we have provided a strong and capable organization to oversee the educational work, a body of able and well trained instructors, and buildings and equipment adequate to carry on a high grade of work. Thoroughness should characterize our school work. We dare not tolerate in any of our church schools anything but a high standard of scholarship. The work in our schools from an educational point of view should be equal in character to that done in the most reputable institutions.

At the last meeting of the Board of Education the policy of maintaining one Standard College was approved. The sentiment favoring the maintainence of a standard college is growing. A college that is rated as a standard institution is free to maintain those things that give it its denominational character. In other words, a college can be standard and at the same time maintain the doctrinal principles of its supporting denomination. There is no religious reason that makes a standard college an impossibility for the Mennonite Church. Standardization demands such things as well-trained faculty, adequate equipment in laboratories and a good working library. In brief a standard institution is one that is in a position to maintain a high standard of work from an educational point of view.

Such an educational policy will, in the very nature of the case, be costly. But if it is essential to the life of our young people, we dare not hesitate because of cost. The money contributed to this educational work by the church is an investment in her young people. The dividends that will be forthcoming will be a body of young people trained and ready to carry their part of the responsibilities in church activities. Every dollar given to a properly organized church school is just as much a contribution to the Lord's work as a similar gift to missions. The educational work of the church is the Lord's work and therefore merits support.

These thoughts on our educational work touch only a few aspects. There remain a number of problems. As long as the doors of an educational institution in the church remain open these problems will exist. It is no small or easy task to maintain a wholesome moral and social life within a student body. The religious life of students must be maintained at a high level or the school in a very important respect will be a failure. It is needless to mention other problems. It will suffice to close by remarking that a church school to succeed as it ought, must be headed by a capable administration, the faculty manned with well-trained and devoted instructors and a constituency that intelligently and sympathetically supports the work.

OUR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

I. W. Royer, Sec'y

General S. S. Committee of the Mennonite Church

Twelve Conference districts have sent reports of their Sunday schools to the General Sunday School Secretary, from which a summary report is made. Some of the following statements are only approximate since so many schools do not keep a complete record. The report is for the year 1921 as nearly as possible.

There are 245 schools reported with a total enrollment of 33,577, and an average attendance of 23,253, with 1138 officers and 2687 teachers. Two hundred five schools meet every Sunday and one hundred twenty-seven organize on or near the first of January. The following departments are represented in this number: Cradl Roll, 39; Beginners, 81; Primary, 127; Junior, 79; Intermediate, 71; Fifteen have graded lessons; Number of Training classes, 16; Teachers' Meetings, 58; Mission Study Classes, 24; Sunday School Libraries, 87, with 5478 volumes. There are thirty-six mission Sunday schools and four union schools. One hundred seventy-two schools receive missionary offerings; eighty-one have encouraged the Children's Investment Fund; and sixty-one have observed Missionary Day as suggested by the General S. S. Committee. One hundred eighty-two schools report a total missionary offering of $48,744.31. One hundred sixteen schools report a total of $14,308.57 spent for supplies. The number of schools using Beams of Light, one hundred twenty-nine; Words of Cheer, one hundred sixty-nine; Youth's Christian Companion, one hundred eight.

There are one hundred eighty-two Young People's Bible Meetings reported with one hundred twenty-one Junior Meetings. One hundred fifty-eight use the topics prepared by our Young People's Bible Meeting Topic Committee.

A few points that may be of general interest,—two hundred twenty-six schools gave the date of their founding. The first organized Sunday school as given was in 1863, and up to 1869 there were fourteen. From 1870-79 thirty more were organized and from 1880-89, fourty; from 1890-99, fourty-one; from 1900-09, fourty-three; from 1910-19, fourty-three; from 1920-22, fifteen.

All but two Conference districts have a Sunday school enrollment exceeding the number of their Church membership. Nearly all the Church Conferences have made provisions for organized Sunday school work. This will be a real help in getting our reports.

A real concern is manifested in a number of communities for better Sunday school accommodations and more careful grading of the schools. Churches are being planned and built with this in mind. With this there is a still more serious concern —more teachers that are prepared and spiritually qualified to meet the needs of our pupils whether they have good or poor accommodations. Have we this in mind?

An opportunity,—180 schools report 5726 pupils under 9 years of age. They want to go to Sunday school, they are willing to be taught, they are depending on us—are we glad for them?

A problem,—180 schools report 5222 pupils between the ages of 9 and 16, some in the Church, some not. They are growing, developing, living, reading, learning, doing, going, deciding, choosing and maybe not always obeying. Are we ready for them?

A responsibility,—136 schools report 1750 pupils over 12 years of age that are not members of the Church.—Can the Lord use us to help bring them in?

A question,—136 schools report only 1942 pupils in our Sunday schools that are not of Mennonite parentage. Six of our city mission schools give 818 of this number, leaving 1124 for 130 of our schools, and many of these are orphans which we have taken into our homes. Is our Sunday school evangelistic beyond our own homes?

A result,—798 pupils have been reported as being received into Church fellowship. In this we rejoice, and we thank our Heavenly Father for the blessings of Home, Sunday school, and Church with all the associated influences that have made it possible to bring the truth of salvation to them.

Let us be encouraged and go forth in the fear of the Lord and make known the name of our Master and build well under the direction of the Holy Spirit that God may crown all our labors to His honor and glory. Pray earnestly for the work of the Sunday school.

THE MENNONITE HOME FOR THE AGED

C. F. Derstine

The Treasure of the Church

During the middle ages when the church was persecuted by the State, they were requested to reveal the hiding place of their riches. They too had works of Charity which cost money. A group of soldiers was sent to the Bishop's home to force him to reveal the hiddentreasure so he escorted them to a large building filled with the Aged, Blind, Cripples, and Invalids. He said, "These are the treasures of the Church." How true that statement is can only be seen when the church withholds her money, and selfishly settles down to care for herself! She loses the spirit of the Master, she shrivels up the channels of usefulness, she loses her hold on the masses. Surely the wealth of the church is her Charity and Mission Enterprises.

The Why of the Home.

The Sunset of Life comes to Christians as well as the worldling. Surely the country provides for unfortunates, but is it the home where Christians love to be while they wait to embark for the other world? There the scum of society is thrust, many exceeding ungodly folks are there. Very often there is no Christian spirit, and no religious environment or services. The average County Home is no place for the aged Christian.

The Object of the Home is also to care for the Christian that has some money wherewith to pay, but nobody to care for himself when he becomes feeble of body and mind.

The Master once spoke thus, "The poor ye have with you always." God has always been careful about the poor. Tread upon the poor of earth, we tread upon the Lord's heart. The church certainly needs to express the spirit of God. These Charitable Homes are expressive of the Spirit of Christ.

The District of this Home comprises about 11000 Mennonites. The State of Illinois was the largest contributor to the Home, Indiana giving largely, and the balance came from the other States.

The Origin of the Home.

When the Old People's Home burned near Orrville, Ohio, there was no place to care for the aged of the Western Conferences. The Eastern Conference Home at Souderton, Pa., the Lancaster Conference Home, and some private parties very kindly opened their doors for these unfortunate old people. The Mission Board investigated the matter of building, and found a hearty request for an Old People's Home in Illinois. They finally granted the request, and took steps to find the proper location. Bro. J. S. Shoemaker, Geo. Greiser, and J. D. Smith with other Illinois brethren were appointed to investigate prospective sites. This committee brought their findings to the Board, and they decided that Eureka, Ill., was the most central place.

The Churches in that locality were favorable to the Home, likewise the Town people gave it a hearty welcome, even offering to help pay for the same. This places it in a congenial situation.

On May 19th, 1920, the Mission Board, assembled in the Annual gathering at the Roanoke Congregation, near Eureka, appointed the Mennonite Home for the Aged, at Eureka, Ill.

Building Committee composed of three brethren, Sanford Yoder, Kalona, Iowa, J. D. Smith, Metamora, Ill., and Jacob Garber, Eureka, Ill.

The Site of the Home

The ground of the Home is situated at the edge of Eureka. It is beautifully situated on the ridge overlooking the town. A cement road runs past the grounds. There are 50 native maple trees around the building. This site was formerly the Methodist Camp Meeting Grounds, and for that reason they appreciated to see a religious Institution occupy the place. The town offered Fire protection for the buildings. There are 18 acres included in the tract of land. Six acres for pasture, seven for farming, and five lots for the buildings. The price paid was $10,000. This was much cheaper than the surrounding land, because of the purpose for which it was to be used.

Bro. Smith and his force of brethren have planted 150 trees, comprising Pear, Plum, Peach, Apple, Apricot and Cherry trees. They also planted 80 Grape vines. It also contains a good sized truck patch.

The Buildings.

The Board authorized the Building Committee to use not exceeding $50,000.00. They stayed close by $40,000.00. This is commendable, and took very close supervision.

The Main Building covers a space of 78 by 84 feet, two story high and a basement largely out of the ground The building is well nigh square with a court space between the two wings going backwards.

The building has thirty-two single and double bedrooms, about 60 rooms altogether, 1600 feet of floor space, 122 windows, and 71 doors. There are 6 good sized porches in the building, which is very practical for the invalids and those who are well and can go outside.

To show to the donors of the Home how their money was spent we must needs give a few figures besides the above. It took 82 squares of fir proof shingles, 80000 laths, 300 tons of gravel and sand. The building contains 2740 feet of radiation, and 5200 feet of boiler capacity. The building is equipped with hot and cold water systems. The building contains Bath Room, Toilets and Lavatories. It is electrically lighted. The building is made of a dark red brick.

The Home will accommodate 40 people, one to a bed. The maximum capacity of the Home is 65 to 70 persons.

The First Arrivals

Bro. J. D. Smith, my wife and myself were delegated to bring the first group of inmates from the Eastern Homes. When they arrived at Eureka, there were several hundred at the Depot to give them a glad welcome. When the helpless ones were seen and carried from the train some tears were shed, and none regretted one cent the Home cost. There are 14 in the Home, and others on the waiting list. Three are on wheel chairs, one is incurable, three are blind, two very old, two are feeble and need help in walking, all are more or less disabled. Several of them are doing some work around the Home.

Those in Charge

The Local Board appointed by the General Mission Board is J. D. Smith, Eureka, Ill., J. D. Garber, Eureka, Ill, Andrew Birky, Fisher, Ill, Jacob Orendorff, Flanagan, Ill., and B. J. Schertz, Eureka, Ill.

The Supt. is J. D. Smith, formerly of Metamora. He has capably taken his place and is highly appreciated by the inmates. He with Bro. Jacob Garber had much to do with reducing the price of the building. They faithfully saw to the work, and that without salary. Sister Smith is also appreciated and has ably directed the starting of the home. She expects to withdraw shortly to her own home nearby. They were fortunate in securing Sister Mattie Schertz of Flanagan for Matron. She brought along a good amount of native ability. Sister Matilda Speicher is a veteran worker for the Board of Missions and Charities. She is a dependable worker in more places than one. She has been in The Old Folks' Home at Ohio, as well as in two mission Stations. Sister Ida Yoder has charge of the Kitchen and Dining Room. She has rendered good services at the Chicago Mission in that capacity, and is doing well at this place. They expect to increase the force of workers as the number of inmates increases.

The Financial Support

The church has done well and the Home and Ground is all paid except $4000 00, this divided among ten thousand members is 40c per member.

The Sisters' Sewing Circles nobly responded, and it is a satisfaction to see all the work they have accomplished. We still have lots of Dorcas Christians among us. I would like to insert a Bible promise for the contributors to the Home.

"Blessed is he that considereth the poor, the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.

The Lord will preserve him, and keep him alive; and he shall be blessed in the earth; and thou wilt not deliver him to the will of his enemies.

The Lord will strengthen him upon the bed of languishing: thou wilt make all his bed in his sickness" (Psa. 41:1-3).

Bro. Stalter and Bro. Newhouser, the latter now passed into eternity, have deeded over to the Board for Endowment 80 acres of land apiece for the future support of the home.

Every Christian that is blessed financially should thus remember the Lord's work as well as his own children. This certainly is praiseworthy.

Congregations also pay for the support of some of their inmates. This is practical for the larger congregations and worthy of imitation. Sometimes relatives and others support some inmates.

Bro. Smith expects to get some help from the acreage of the place, such as vegetables, fruit, etc. Bro. Amos Newhouser brought one of his Holstein cows, and more will be added later. The chickens are expected to help somewhat. A useful barn has been built on the place as well. The present stock consists of 2 cows, 1 calf, and 100 chickens

One of the present urgent needs is an elevator. The space has been built for it, whenever enough brethren advance for the paying of the same. Some cannot go up or down steps and cannot come down for worship or church service. There are other reasons that call for this practical service.

The Religious Atmosphere

A Christian atmosphere pervades the place. The voice of singing men and singing women is frequently heard. There is daily worship and prayer in the Home. Every Lord's Day at 3 o'clock there is public worship. Passing ministers are always appreciated and services will be held at any evening.

There is a spirit of brotherliness in the home; each is urged to show himself Christlike toward others. The conversation is urged to be in accordance with a good Christian conduct.

In these homes many pass, there are partings among these aged pilgrims and we are glad that Christ is accepted by all the inmates. One brother remarked lately, "Brother,

I left Indiana for Ohio, then Penna, now Illinois. My next removal I want to be to the upper world. I m ready to go. But I have been treated so good. I'm thankful." Brother, your money, your labor, your sewing has made this possible, and Christ speaks, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

HISTORY, GROWTH, AND ACTIVITIES OF THE MENNONITE CHURCH IN THE ARGENTINE

T. K. Hershey

The four articles from the pens of the present Missionaries in the Argentine, we trust will accomplish the purpose for which they are written; that of bringing information to those who are praying and giving, with respect to the history, growth, needs and future plans of Mennonite mission work in the Argentine. It was purposely planned not to write long articles, but rather, in concise statements and in statistical form set forth the actual facts.

1. Stations opened:—
   (a) Pehuajo, the central and first station was opened April 1919. Present Workers: T. K. Hershey, Mae Hershey, D. Parke Lantz, and Lillian F. Lantz.
   (b) Trenque Lauquen, November, 1920. Present Workers: J. W. Shank, Emma Shank, and Anita Cavadore.
   (c) Santa Rosa, January, 1922. Present Workers: Albano Luayza, and Querubina R. de Luayza.
   (d) Carlos Casares, October, 1922. Present Workers: W. G. Lauver, and Florence B. Lauver.

2 Church Work:—

There are at present twelve preaching services held weekly with an average attendance of about fifty at each service. In the two Churches now established in Pehuajo and Trenque Lauquen, there are sixty-seven members. At this writing there are in the four stations some fourty applicants for Church membership, some of whom will be baptized before this article will appear in print.

By looking over our records, we notice that twenty-four of the sixty-seven members, are below 22 years of age, fourteen between 22 and 30, and twenty-nine above 30 years of age.

3. Sunday School:—

The Missionaries are at present operating or conducting eight Sunday schools, with an average attendance of about four hundred in the eight schools each Sunday. A little figuring reveals the fact, that two hundred seventy-five of the four hundred present are boys and girls below 12 years of age. One hundred twenty-five of said number range from 22 to in the seventies.

4. Young People's work:—

The two congregations at Pehuajo and Trenque Lauquen, have each a well organized Young People's Meeting, which is composed of a Superintendent, President, Vice President, Secretary, and a Treasurer. They have a constitution and by-laws which call for the following committees:—Executive, Membership, Program, Social, and a committee for the purpose of giving aid and relief to the poor. They each hold a religious service once a week, which is conducted by the native members themselves. The two societies have an enrollment of eighty members, with a weekly average attendance of sixty-two.

5. Native Bible Readers Work:—

One of the very good ways of reaching the homes with the Gospel is through the natives themselves. This is true in all foreign countries.

When the brethren Yoder and Musselman were with us, Bro. M, seeing the need, very generously contributed 100 pesos to start a fund for the purpose of sending out Native Bible Readers. Two sisters were sent out the first year, and visited some 30 homes each week. At present there are readers reading the Word in all of the Stations, whose records show that some 200 homes are visited weekly, and that nearly three hundred persons above 12 years of age each week hear the Gospel read to them Through this method of bringing the Gospel to the people, children have been found for the Sunday school, new homes entered, and several have been converted, baptized and are now useful members in the Church

6 Kindergarten:—

There are at the two kindergarten schools at Pehuajo and Trenque Lauquen, some eighty children enrolled with an average daily attendance of sixty. This is a great feeder to the Sunday schools.

The only school work in operation is here at Pehuajo and it is in the experimental stage. There are at present fifty-seven boys and girls enrolled. The first and second grades are taught. As the membership grows, there will be a greater need for our own schools.

7. Church Paper:—

What has been a very profitable work done in the way of spreading good literature was the launching of a monthly periodical, called, "The True Way." It began with a circuation of 3000, which has been increased to 6,250, at a cost of about $20 00 in U. S. currency. This very good way of making religious propaganda, is made possible through the contributions of some Spanish classes and individuals in the home Church.

8. Native Helpers:—

There are at present thirteen native brethren and sisters teaching Sunday school classes, some have been placed in charge of branch Sunday schools and are doing noble work. Several sisters have been trained to tell Bible stories, while some of the young men have taken charge of the service in the absence of the Missionaries. The Congregation at Pehuajo, has raised up and sent out one missionary. Sister Anita Cavadore has been doing noble work in Trenque Lauquen for almost two years. It hopes through time to send out many more

Remembering that the work in the Argentine is in its infancy, and that each day brings new and difficult problems, we ask an interest in the prayers of the brethren at home. This is a mutual work and together we are sure that God will continue to add His blessing on His work.

POLISH UP THE DARK SIDE

Is life a fret and tangle,
And everything done wrong?
Are friends a bit disloyal,
And enemies too strong?
Is there no bright side showing?
Then—as a sage hath said—
"Polish up the dark side,
And look at that instead."

The darkest plank of oak will show
Sometimes the finest grain;
The roughest rock will sometimes yield
The gleaming golden vein.
Don't rail at fate, declaring
That no brightness shows ahead,
But polish "up the dark side,
And look at that instead."

THE ACTUAL WORK OF THE ARGENTINE MENNONITE MISSION

J. W. Shank

Types of work done:

Evangelistic, preaching in halls and open air.

Sunday schools, ten in number.

Bible reading by native sisters, about 200 homes visited weekly.

Home visiting by missionaries.

Literature distribution, 6250 copies of Camino Verdadero monthly, besides other tracts, scripture portions, testaments and Bibles.

School for first and second grades, in Pehuajo.

Most interesting phases of the work:

Personal contact with the people, home visiting, talking to them about the great glad news, cottage meetings where one can talk as in a home circle.

Most difficult phases of the work.

To get the educated people (who are ignorant of the Bible) to lend their ears to the Gospel for they have cast the Bible aside as a lot of fairy tales.

To overcome the general indifference, scorn and opposition to religious things.

To secure a regular attendance of the larger boys in the Sunday school.

To capture the men whose lives are wrapped up in pleasure and vice.

Where Meetings are held in Carlos Casares

To prove that our teaching is superior to Catholicism, Socialism and Spiritualism.

To live down the opposition by the ignorant and the direct enemies of the Gospel.

Pressing needs:

Funds for purchasing property for the mission in the new stations so as to inspire confidence among the people and so as to be able to better care for the work.

Funds for purchasing a means of conveyance for each station so that the missionaries will have a chance to reach a greater number of homes.

More missionaries and native workers so as to develop work already started and to launch new work.

same time the envelope system was adopted at Pehuajo (small envelopes containing the words "God loveth a cheerful giver" and the statement that the money given will be used to further the Lord's work in said town, are given to the members). Contributions increased from two to four pesos, to an average monthly contribution of $45.00 pesos.

SOME PLANS FOR ADVANCING THE WORK IN SOUTH AMERICA DURING THE YEAR 1923

The missionaries on this field after consultation and much prayer have decided to publish some plans which we hope by the grace and help of GOD and the co-operation of the Church in the Northern Continent can be carried out to the honor and glory of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ and the salvation of many lost souls on this long neglected Southern Continent.

Church Conference. At the worker's meeting of May 15, 1922, when all the missionaries were present, it was planned to hold a Church Conference, D. V., at Pehuajo, during February 1923, as a means of strengthening the brotherhood and awakening a greater interest among the Argentinos in the subject of Salvation by faith in the finished work of our Lord.

Evangelistic Tours. In the country, surrounding the mission stations, are many large farms called estancias, where as many as 100 persons are living without any opportunity of hearing the gospel story. As often as time permits, the workers have planned to carry the glad message of salvation to these remote and hitherto neglected farms.

New Sunday Schools. Branch Schools to be supplied with workers from the main Station in each town.

This will mean at least four new locations from which would go forth beams of light into the darkness and ignorance and sin.

We are praying that the way will be opened to start Sunday School in several of the larger towns on the Western R. R., for example at Catrilo, which is also on the Pacific R. R. Several converts are living there now, but a native superintendent also a Bible Reader are needed in order to carry the work forward.

From many smaller towns come invitations to hold services regularly. We know of converts in several of these towns; Chiclana, Guanaco, Passo, Madero, Pelligrini, Tres Lomas, etc. We feel that we ought to go to the places regularly but are unable to do so at present but hope by the help of GOD to conduct some services in these towns in 1923.

Training Members to be Workers. The converts are very willing to be taught and our aim is to create a desire for the deeper spiritual life, in all the members of our growing church in the Argentine, by prayer, teaching and practical soul winning efforts.

There are some intelligent native members who with sound instruction in the Word and with some experience in practical Christian work, may become valuable laborers in the Lord's vineyard. These young people have remarkable memories and are anxious to learn. Some have written to Training Schools controlled by other Mission Boards asking for information, concerning their courses, which was readily given.

We have made the matter a subject of prayer and we feel that our members should be trained by Mennonite Missionaries set apart for this purpose.

Translating into Spanish, preparing and printing the lesson materials, will involve a great amount of time and labor. Co-operation by the Boards of Missions and Education and the prayers of the Church for wisdom and guidance are needed in order to solve this urgent and serious problem before it becomes more complicated.

Mission Buildings and Properties. It is a well known fact that where the Mission owns property, the work is more stable and has a prestige which a rented building cannot give. We praise God for the way the Church is helping in this matter and we believe that 1923 will bring still more blessings in the shape of a property at Trenque Lauquen and we hope preparations will be made to acquire property in Santa Rosa, also in Carlos Casares. No doubt you have read about the crowds that try to get into and find seats in our halls. According to information received from the Mission Board, we have permission to erect a new Church Building in Pehuajo and hope that it will be finished during the year. GOD bless all who have given to this needy phase of the work in South America.

Reorganized Grade Schools. The First and Second Grades have been well attended the past year, but lacking somewhat the individual attention so necessary, because there were too many pupils for the one teacher. We are very anxious to have two teachers the coming school year (beginning in March), as we desire to establish a good School that will be recognized by the local School Boards, and one that will be a credit to our own country. For this we need more teachers and more funds. Who will help us realize these desires?

New Missionaries. We have purposely left for the last this most important plan. Try to put yourself in the Master's place and with your imagination look over the great continent of South America with its millions who have not HEARD the Gospel Story, some of whom are just now ready to hear and obey the Gospel call, others who are thirsting for the water of everlasting life, some who have been led astray by spiritualists, papists and seventh day adventists, still others who having been deceived so often are now atheists, materialists or in other words unbelievers.

Will you who read these lines be obedient to the Master (Matthew 9:35-38.) and pray believingly and fervently that the Master of the Harvest will send forth workers spiritually, intellectually and physically fitted, who in the power of the HOLY GHOST will proclaim the glad message of Salvation and warn against these errors as long as they have the strength or until our Master says "Behold I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be." Let us therefore in our several spheres of labor, be faithful to the trust that our Lord has assigned us until that DAY.

HINTS FOR THE SICK-ROOM AT HOME

Selena N. Gamber

It is essential that the sick room be made as bright and cheery as possible. The environments effect in a large measure a speedy recovery from illness. The sunniest and most pleasant room in the house must be used as the sick room. Sunshine is one of natures own remedies for illness; a physician can do not anything more than simply aid nature in the healing of disease.

A plentiful supply of fresh air is an important factor in the treatment of disease. It is a well known fact that soldiers cared for in open tents in times of war have recovered when other necessities have been most meager. This result has been credited to the great quantity of fresh air and sunshine with which they were unavoidably provided. In sick rooms where medicine, food and nursing care are in abundance this leading element is often lacking.

Impurities are thrown into the air through respiration and perspiration. The change in the air due to respiration is a diminution of its oxygen. The amount of water which leaves the body daily in prespiration is about two quarts, which evaporates throwing off its impurities into the air. Thus we see that the sick room needs to have a constant stream of fresh air flowing through it.

In order to secure perfect ventilation we must consider the source of fresh air supply; air entering the room may be quite as tainted as that within the room. There must be no draught. To avoid any draught a screen may be placed between the patient and the window.

In cold weather the air entering the room should be directed upward. The inlet and outlet for air must be so arranged that the entering air will have a chance to diffuse through the whole space of the room. When the air is too cold to allow opening the windows to any extent, we can ventilate, if there be two windows in the room at opposite sides, by placing a board beneath the lower sash so that the upper edge will be raised two or three inches above the lower edge of the upper sash. The opposite window may be pulled down slightly from the top.

The air in the room should be changed daily. Put extra blankets over the patient and open the windows wide. If the bed is near the window, place a screen between the patient and window; if screen cannot be secured, arrange a piece of furniture so as to avoid a draught. Keep windows open for about fifteen minutes. If the disease from which the patient is suffering demands a very even temperature, open the windows of an adjoining well heated room and leave the door between the two rooms open.

Plants may be kept in the room. Plant life is one of the most important factors in the purification of air. They absorb from the air many of its impure qualities and throw off oxygen. This is the chief source of oxygen supply. Cut flowers should be removed at night.

The room should be well cleaned daily and all furniture carefully dusted. Remove all unnecessary articles. Remove all excretions immediately. After use, the bed-pan should be rinsed, first in cold water. Disinfect daily. Lysol or Chlorinated lime are the best for home use.

Keep the bed well made. A patient cannot be made comfortable in a loose, sagging, uneven bed, nor in one in which the upper covers are drawn too tight. In order that the clothes remain smooth they must be pulled tightly and the ends as far under the mattress as possible. It will be impossible to prevent wrinkles under a patient unless the sheet is put on perfectly straight. The mattress should not be turned from side to side, but from top to bottom so as to avoid the heaviest part of the body resting on the same part of the mattress. This will avoid denting one part of it making it uneven. A sheet folded once, put lengthwise across the bed, can be drawn from side to side when it gets warm and a cool place thus provided for the patient to lie on. Keep the patient between sheets which can be changed frequently so as to retain their freshness. Patient's gown should be changed daily. Pillows should be shaken frequently. See that they are well into the corners of the pillow-cases; these too should retain a freshness.

To change the linens of a bed with a patient in it, move her to one side of the bed; remove the top covers, except one blanket, and pillows. Loosen the bed clothes on all sides, turn patient on her side; roll all linens closely to her back, place the fresh sheets in order and fold closely to back of patient; turn her and you can draw out the soiled linens and also place the fresh ones in their order. Replace pillows and top covers. A pillow placed to the back of a patient slightly turned relieves the strain on the muscles of the back. A pillow placed under the knees relieves the abdominal muscles.

Bathe patient daily with warm water. Medicated alcohol may be rubbed on the skin after the bath, as it helps to cool the patient. Before bathing see that the windows are closed and that the room is warm. Have bath-blankets, clean linens, towels, soap, wash cloth, alcohol, comb and tooth-brush at the bedside. Water may become cooled before the bath is complete; it must be changed so as to keep warm all through the bath. Place patient between blankets to bathe. Keep well covered during bath, expose only the part of the body that you are bathing. Dry each part well and rub with alcohol. It may be necessary to keep a hot water bottle to the patient's feet in order to keep warm

Brush patient's teeth at least twice daily. Let her gargle with some mouth wash, such as Lysterene or salt water every morning. Keep nails trimmed and hair well brushed. Few patients are so ill that their hair can not be well brushed. If the patient is lying in bed the hair is best kept by dividing into two parts and braided at either side. This will not annoy the patient and can be done easily when she is lying down.

Sometimes patients rest better in an elevated position. This can be arranged by placing one or two extra straw bolsters under the pillows if bolsters can not be gotten, blankets or comforters may be rolled tightly and used for the purpose. Always have the elevation extend entirely across the bed or the patient will be apt to slide into an uncomfortable position when turning on her side. When elevating a patient always see that the hollow of the back is well supported, an extra pillow placed under the back may be used for this purpose.

Weak patients sometimes slip too far down in bed and cannot return to the proper place without help. To give assistance, flex the patient's knees, so that her feet will rest firmly upon the bed, let her clasp her hands on your far shoulder, but have her arms cross your back and chest so that an arm will not come at the back of your neck. If it does the muscles of your back must bear the weight, otherwise your shoulder will, which is much better. Pass your arms behind her, grasp her under her far arm, put your other arm under her thighs and as she raises herself slightly draw her upward. If the patient is heavy and cannot help herself have some one help from the opposite side of the bed.

Avoid lifting a patient when your back is bent. Unless the bed is very low, bending the knees slightly will be, if the patient is at the side of the bed, all that is required to bring you to a proper level. If your back is bent as you raise the patient it will get more of the weight than if it is straight.

To avoid bed-sores, keep the bed dry. Look for crumbs after each meal, brush them out carefully. Keep the draw-sheet tight so as to avoid wrinkles. Should any part of the body show signs of becoming sore avoid pressure on that part. Keep patient turned from side to side. Bathe the affected part gently with soap and warm water, rub with alcohol or spirits of camphor and powder at least four times every twenty-four hours. If the skin is broken it is very difficult to heal.

If a patient expectorates let her use small pieces of old white cloth. Make a paper bag with news-paper; draw the two sides together and the lower side up, pin with small straight pins. This may be pinned to the side of the bed where the patient can put her cloths into immediately after use. Burn bag with contents daily.

Prepare food carefully and serve attractively. A patient's appetite may be stimulated by an attractive appetizing appearance in the food. Never serve too large amounts of food at one time, especially when the appetite is poor, it may take away the little appetite the patient does have. Serve everything intended to be hot, hot and everything cold, cold. Fix patient comfortably before allowing her to begin eating her meal. Brush out crumbs after every meal. Always give patient plenty of water to drink between meals. Keep odors from cooking out of room.

Medicines are made more palatable by diluting with either very hot or very cold water. Cough medicines should never be diluted. Always put powders far back on the tongue and have a large glass of cold water at hand. Be careful not to allow medicines containing iron come in contact with the teeth; iron will ruin the enamel coating of the teeth. Castor Oil may be given in fruit juice. If given in hot coffee or hot milk it may make the patient dislike them. Hot milk or water given at night are a means of inducing sleep.

Do not whisper in or near a sick room even when the patient appears to be unconscious. Never rock in a sick-room or kick against a bed when passing. Keep door and window hinges well oiled; never allow doors and windows to bang.

FROM THE CANADIAN NORTHWEST

N. B. Stauffer

"The Lord is good to all and his tender mercies are over all his works."

Nearly twenty years ago the various congregations of the Mennonite Church in Western Canada were organized into what is now known as the Alberta-Saskatchewan Conference district with a membership of approximately four hundred souls.

A noticeable thing about the progress of the work of this Conference district was the growing interest taken in mission work, so much so that the need of a district mission board was felt which was organized with Bro. E. S. Hallman of Guernsey, Sask, as president, Bro. Allen Good, Carstairs, Alta, secretary, and Bro. W. A. Wideman, Mazeppa, treasurer.

Aside from the regular routine of work among the congregations this board has been considering the opening of a mission in Alberta's largest commercial centre, the City of Calgary, but as yet no permanent work has been established here.

During the year 1922 this Conference has enjoyed a favorable degree of prosperity both by the addition of new members and also a deeper interest manifested in the various activities of the Church.

The last Conference was held with the brotherhood near Carstairs, Alberta, at the West Zion church July 11, 12, and 13. On these dates the Annual Sunday school Conference, Mission Board meeting and Church Conference, were held. The attendance was good, and those who attended expressed themselves as having been pleased with the meetings.

We were favored with the presence of Bro. C. F. Derstine of Eureka, Ill., and Bro. J. C. Gingrich of Wolford, N. D., at these meetings which added strength to our work and for which we were thankful to God. Both brethren made a visit to some of the congregations which was much appreciated.

Among changes which have taken place during this year we might mention that because of Bro. Allen Good's decision to return to City Mission work, and who is now at Portland, Oregon, Bro. Henry Harder was appointed Secretary of the mission board; and because of the resignation of Bro. W. A. Wideman who is returning to his former home in Ontario, Bro Jacob Brenneman of Tofield was appointed Treasurer.

What the future has for the Church in this western field we do not know, but as always we feel that the harvest truly is plenteous and the laborers are few, and our prayer is that the Lord of the harvest will send forth more laborers.

The success of the proposed undertaking of the Church in the City of Calgary depends on the faithfulness of our people to God and their loyalty to the Church.

Pray for the work in the Canadian Northwest.

THE GREAT ANABAPTIST MOVEMENT

John Horsch

From the name it might be inferred that the principle tenet of the Anabaptists was the doctrine of baptism, or that they placed more weight on baptism than the state churches. This however is far from correct. Their opponents in the state churches did, as a rule, not find fault with the Anabaptists on the ground that they made too much of baptism, but rather that they did not think highly enough of it, rejecting, as they did, the doctrines of baptismal regeneration and of the damnation of unbaptized infants. The name Anabaptists (rebaptizers) was give them by their opponents, and was ever repudiated by them. The reason they were given this name is because they insisted that those who had been baptized in their infancy, need to be baptized again on the confession of their own personal faith. They believed believer's baptism to be the scriptural baptism, embodying in itself a profession of the leading tenets of Christianity and involving a denial of the prevailing unscriptural principles of Romanism as well as of liberalism; hence their emphatic insistance on believers' baptism alone.

The Anabaptists movement began when it became evident that Luther and Zwingli would not organize new churches on the Voluntary Principle but would merely introduce certain improvements into the Romish church, permitting the union of the church with the state and the world to continue and persecuting those who were not of their own persuasion. There were many who had the conviction that they were, in matters of faith, responsible to God alone and that the state had no right whatever to dictate in religious matters; consequently they refused to fashion their faith according to the decrees of the government. These people were, on the one hand, the old dissenters, principally the Waldenses, who had maintained themselves in various places of Germany and, on the other hand, those who had through the earlier reformatory writings of Luther and Zwingli received sufficient light to see that the Christian Church should be established on the Voluntary Principle and should in matters of faith acknowledge no authority but the Word of God alone; they had willingly followed these Reformers out of the tyranny of Romish popery but refused to be led into the bondage of the state.

When we here speak of the Anabaptist movement, we have in mind the great movement back to the Scriptures and to apostolic Christianity which took place before the rise of certain fanatical and revolutionary Anabaptist sects as well as before the conversion of Menno Simons. The majority, perhaps, of the nonresistant Anabaptists of that period, were of the Swiss Brethren.

This great period of Anabaptist history began toward the end of the year 1526. The church of the Swiss Brethren which stood for the Voluntary Principle and proposed to be established upon the Word of God alone spread in an almost incredibly short time over a large territory. Toward the end of the year 1527, Anabaptist congregations were to be found in every part of South (or Upper) Germany; in certain states there was hardly a village without a conventicle. The Anabaptist movement was one of the great movements in the history of the church universal.

Many Anabaptist preachers traveled through these countries. They were practically the only missionaries of that time. The messengers of state church Reformation withdrew, as a rule, from states where they were threatened with persecution and this was generally the case in Catholic provinces. The Anabaptists, on the other hand, had nothing to gain by shunning Catholic states for the sake of avoiding persecution; they were persecuted in Lutheran and Zwinglian provinces as well. In Roman Catholic territory Anabaptist missionary endeavor exceeded by far the efforts put forth by the Lutheran and Zwinglian churches, while in a number of reformed (non-Romish) provinces the Anabaptists had more convinced followers than the established state churches themselves. There is abundant evidence to show that as a rule the state churches could be maintained only through the strong arm of state. The mass-ves of the people were indifferent and, had there been liberty of conscience, the majority of those who were really interested in the Christian cause would in many states have identified themselves with the church which stood for the Voluntary Principle. Consequently the suppression of the Anabaptist movement was a vital question for the newly established state churches as well as for the Church of Rome. But to arrest this great movement was found to be an exceedingly difficult task. The Anabaptists could not be overcome with the Scriptures. And they fully believed that the message they had to bring was worth suffering persecution for and even death, if need be. Their message differed radically from that of the new state churches which were yet saturated with Romanism.

It is a noteworthy fact that in the several volumes of the sermons of Luther the necessity of conversion and a change of life is by no means conspicuous. In Lutheran teaching baptism took the place of conversion. The Anabaptists, on the other hand, insisted on the necessity of personal conversion and a life in conformity with the Word of God. He who does not live a Christian life, they said, is not a Christian notwithstanding the religious forms which he may observe or the correct teaching which he may hold. Strict discipline was maintained in their congregations. In the state churches, on the other hand, proper discipline was impossible, every inhabitant of the country, whether he be saint or sinner, being compelled to hold membership. According to Luther's definition a Christian church is to be found wherever the Gospel is regularly preached and the sacraments are properly administered. This definition of the church was not accepted by the Anabaptists. They held a Christian church to be a congregation of Christian believers, i. e. of those who have accepted the Gospel message.

The Anabaptist missionaries endeavored to reach the common people. Their teaching was simple and to the point—free of theological speculations. Persecuted and fugitives, they found themselves compelled to undergo the greatest hardships and were in continuous danger of life. But this fact was an unanswerable proof that they believed in their message. The evangelical truths which they preached with so great earnestness made a wonderful impression on the hearers. Ofttimes a church was founded within a few hours after their arrival at a given place.

The people had been prepared for the message of the Primitive Gospel. Reformation was in the air. Great numbers had become interested in it as never before and were convinced of the necessity. The new state churches failed to bring about a reformation of the people. Concerning this fact there is practically one voice among contemporary writers, be they Romanist, Lutheran, Zwinglian or Anabaptist. There was, in fact, a decline in the piety and morality of the people in consequence of state church Reformation. How could it be otherwise when the new creed was forced upon them, no one being tolerated in the land except those who accepted it? Suppose the case that the Czar of Russia would decide to compel all his subjects to accept a new creed and would have the power to carry out such a plan, what would be the consequence? Is it not obvious that such a course would be a misfortune for the people? They may have a poor creed now, but they believe it to be orthodox. If the new creed be better than the old, the introduction of it would probably prove a blessing to succeeding generations but in no wise to those who were compelled to change their faith at the command of the government. Religion, if it is not voluntary, is a farce. That good preacher, Peter Cartwright who whipped a certain "hard sinner," so the story goes, until he became mellow and willing to give his heart to God, might have known better.

The chief centers of the Anabaptist movement was the city of Augsburg in Swabia, South Germany. Here more than one thousand persons including many of the aristocracy, received believers' baptism. Other prominent centers were Strasburg, Worms, Nikolsburg and Steyer. In Strasburg the Anabaptists entertained the hope that liberty of conscience should be proclaimed or at least toleration be granted the dissenters. Both here and in Augsburg the magistrates were for a long time undecided whether the Lutheran or Zwinglian Church was to be made the state church. Before the establishment of a new state church in these mighty cities the Anabaptists were persecuted by imprisonment and banishment alone.

Notwithstanding the persecution quite a number of important books were published, by Hubmaier, Denck, Langenmantel (an Augsburg patrician), Hetzer and others. Numerous hymns of the Anabaptists appeared in print. Of these hymns Dr. Philip Schaff says: "They dwell on the inner life of the Christian, the mystery of regeneration, sanctification and personal union with Christ. They breathe throughout a spirit of piety, devotion, cheerful resignation under suffering and readiness for martyrdom. They are hymns of the cross, to comfort and encourage the scattered sheep of Christ, ready for the slaughter, in imitation of their Divine Shepherd."

OUR RELIEF WORK

Orie O. Miller

The purpose in this paper is to review our relief activities for the past year only. The history of the organization of both the Mennonite Relief Commission and the Mennonite Central Committee and of the work of each of these was given in the previous Year Book. During the whole past year the need and suffering of our Mennonite people in Russia, has had the attention of the Church in this country almost to the exclusion of need for relief anywhere else. Since the Mennonite Central Committee was specially organized to distribute relief there, most of our efforts have been thru that organization. We will first however, consider that phase of Relief effort which has been carried on by the Mennonite Relief Commission aside from that done thru the Central Committee.

THE MENNONITE RELIEF COMMISSION

Some work has been done both in Germany and in the Near East. In its nature this has been similar to that begun and carried on in these same fields during the several previous years.

At the beginning of this year we had a few more than a dozen Mennonite workers in Syria and Turkey. All but six of these have returned and no new ones have been sent out. These six serve as regular personnel in the Near East Relief. Aside from special relief given as a result of the recent Smyrna disaster, the work of the Near East Relief has now largely to do with about 100 000 orphans which were gathered into large centers immediately after the War. Caring for these orphans and preparing them to fit into life as they shall find it on leaving the orphanage, makes up the Near East Relief program. Into this program our workers have been fitted. Their contribution from the Church are very much appreciated by the Near East Relief and we believe are doing an untold amount of good.

The Commission has given some aid to the work of both Mennonite Relief organizations in Germany, namely the "Christenphlicht" and the "Fluchtlings Fursonge." By means of this assistance the "Christenphlicht" has been able to continue its work among the poor in the Erzeberge, and plans to continue same over this winter. The largest single project undertaken by the German Mennonites was the caring of Russian Mennonite Refugees at Lechfeld. At this place a tract of several thousand acres has been loaned to the German Committee. On it the Committee has endeavored to provide about two hundred Russian Mennonite families with the means of making a living. The tract can properly provide for only about fifty families. With the rapid decline in the value of the German Mark and with the growth in the refugee group the task of the German Committee has become increasingly difficult. In order to bring this situation more clearly to the Church Brother Michael Horsch of Ingolstadt, Germany, spent five months of the past summer visiting our American congregations. Brother Horsch has been the founder and active head of the Christenphlicht as well as one of the principals in the Lechfeld project. Thru his visit the interest in this field has been stimulated. Our Commission advanced a loan to carry forward the Lechfeld work and some assistance has been promised towards bringing some of these Russian Mennonite refugees to the United States and Canada. Plans for this are in progress now. With the present economic situation in Germany it seems almost impossible for these people to become independent there.

In both the Near East and in Germany the need for relief seemed to draw to a close when new and unexpected developments occurred which threaten to make the situation very serious. In Germany the causes seem to be economic; in the Near East political. The disaster at Smyrna and the forced evacuation of all Christian peoples from Asia Minor present the world with an unparalleled refugee problem. Our Churches are increasing contributions to help meet this need. The most we can do is not nearly enough.

THE MENNONITE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

It is just a year since the way has been open to bring effective relief to our brethren in Russia. It is a little more than two years since the first Unit was sent to Russia. During the first year relief operations were carried on among the Russian refugees at Constantinople. With this as a base several trips of investigations were made into Russia and something learned of conditions there. Finally late in 1921 Brother A. J. Miller succeeded in making an agreement with the Soviet Government at Moscow under which relief operations were begun. An arrangement was also effected with the A. R. A. in New York which gave our workers the full advantages of their organization in Russia. Our personnel are listed as A. R. A. workers, altho entirely directed by our own Committee. The privilege of purchasing supplies on the field from the A. R. A. at cost and of having the benefit of their transportation system in sending workers and shipping supplies have been a tremendous advantage in carrying on the work.

Conditions in the Russian Mennonite settlements when Brother Miller first visited them, were pitiful indeed. Contributions in all of Russia had become rapidly worse since 1917. Civil war, revolutions and counter revolutions have laid waste sections of the country and destroyed lives and property everywhere. The Bolsheviki finally succeeded in establishing the present Soviet form of government and in subduing all opposing factions. At best it has been a costly experiment for the country. Some of its leaders were no doubt sincere but impractical in their ideals, others were cruelly selfish and took advantage of the situation to plunder, rob and kill at will. The prosperous looking Mennonite settlements became the special prey of the latter class. Following this came a total crop failure due to a year's drouth. As a result the Volga river valley, which in normal times produces wheat for most of Europe became a parched desert, and its inhabitants were without food. Famine prevailed as the winter of 1921 came on. The Mennonites being more frugal with their meager supplies than their Russian neighbors fared somewhat better than they, but by Christmas time their food supplies were practically gone. People made bread of such substitutes as bark, clay, weeds or ate cats, dogs or mice.

In this Volga district the A. R. A. began its child feeding program. In this same district on the day before Christmas, Dec. 24, 1921 in the Koppentaler Mennonite settlement our workers distributed their first relief supplies. On this date, therefore, our relief program in Russia itself can be said to have begun. The other Mennonite settlements in the Volga were reached soon after and starvation ceased. About fifty Mennonites died from starvation in the district before help came.

At Brother Miller's request the Unit at Constantinople released Brother Slagel for work in Russia. On Jan. 13 he sailed for Odessa and took with him one hundred fifty-five tons of Relief supplies made up largely of clothing and medicines. On Feb. 24 he reached Alexandrovsk which is one of the centrally located Mennonite settlements of the Ukraine. Here Brother Miller met him and together they organized the feeding program in the various settlements of South Russia. The famine had by this time reached this section also and the brethren found conditions fully as bad as they had been in the Volga several months earlier.

With the help of the local Mennonite Committee the work was very quickly organized. First a district Committee was appointed to work directly with the American workers at Alexandrovsk. Then each Mennonite village was visited, a village committee appointed, the people divided into four classes according to their need, a kitchen site selected, and allotment of rations made to the village on the basis of the need as found and definite instructions left. By March 15 it is estimated that 10,000 children and adults were daily receiving one meal of American food at these kitchens By May first the total in South Russia had reached 20,000 and by July first which was just before the harvest and consequently the need the greatest, reports indicate that in the various Russian Mennonite settlements our workers were feeding more than 30,000 individuals daily. The need for food has been somewhat less since the harvest. The total number being fed at this time is again less than 20,000. This number will, however, need to be materially increased as the present winter continues. The total cost of feeding one individual a month has been placed at seventy cents. The figures indicate that at the peak about one third of the Russian Mennonite population were getting their meals at the kitchens.

Supplementary relief was given in the form of clothing. A total of more than one hundred twenty-five tons of clothing have already gone into Russia besides the large quantities earlier distributed in Constantinople. The last shipment of seventy-five tons is being distributed now. As foreseen by the Committee early in the summer, the need for clothing is most dire this winter. The Church has nobly responded to the Committee's appeal. The churches in Russia seem unable to find words strong enough to express the gratitude they feel for this help. The need for clothing continues. The Sewing Circles are still busy on Russian sewing as is evidenced by the continuous stream of shipments coming in to Scottdale and the thousands of cut garments that monthly leave our cutting room at Paradise, Pa. The Committee appreciates the interest and help of the sisters in this phase of the Relief

Another form of supplementary relief was that sent in the form of individual food packages bought by people in this country for relatives and friends in Russia. Up to the present time over $100,000 worth of food drafts have been distributed among Mennonites there.

Additional workers as called for have been added to the Unit on the field. At present the Unit consists of eight workers including the few more particularly working on the Reconstruction phase of the program.

In March of his year Bro. P. C. Hiebert, chairman of the Mennonite Central Committee was commissioned to make an extended visit of the field. He first stopped with the workers at Constantinople and worked out with them plans for closing operations there. The formal closing took place June 15th. The Mennonite refugees who were still there and at Batoum have since been provided for thru the Near East Relief. Plans are under way for bringing most of them to America. We believe that the efforts at Constantinople have been very much worth while and that the Church appreciates the labors of those connected with it. There are no doubt thousands of individuals who feel a gratefulness they cannot express for help they got there.

From Constantinople Brother Hiebert went to Russia and visited the various relief centers already described. With the workers and Mennonites there he discussed methods of reconstruction whereby the people could again become self supporting. Work of this nature would naturally follow an emergency relief program as then carried on. They felt that the most effective help along this line could be given by sending tractors and plows. Accordingly twenty-five outfits were purchased and shipped in August. The tractors continue the property of the Committee but the plan is that the Russian Mennonites pay for them with a portion of the crops raised. This portion is then to be used in further relief. A second shipment of twenty-five tractors went forward early in December and will arrive in time for spring plowing.

No very definite forecasts can be made of the probable developments in the relief and reconstruction programs. It is hoped that the Relief phase of the work will come to a close with the coming of next summer's harvest. Help along lines of reconstruction will no doubt continue longer Already the Committee has forwarded to the Units in Russia and for the Russians in Constantinople approximately $850,000 00 This roughly represents the total of cash, clothing and food draft remittances given during the past two years by the Mennonite Church in America to our brethren in Russia. We have confidence in the church that as long as the need continues she will respond as in the past. To the Master be the praise!

Secretary's Report

Believing that the official reports of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Mennonite Central Committee as given to the meeting held in Chicago on Wednesday, December 27, 1922, would be of interest to many we present them herewith. The Secretary's report is for a period of six months, while the Treasurer's report covers the entire period of time since the Central Committee has been organized.—Editor.

The executive work of the Mennonite Central Committee has been carried forward since our last meeting of the Committee in accordance with the action taken at that time.

1. A comprehensive statement was published by the Secretary giving necessary explanations of the working plan of the Committee and reasons were given why all general contributions for Russian relief should be forwarded through the channels provided for by the Committee. The results of this campaign have been very gratifying. The treasurer's report will show a very marked increase in contributions received as compared with former reports.

2. Packages of clothing for individuals have been received and forwarded according to the action taken. The understanding has been that the Committee assumes no responsibility in the matter beyond due care of receipt, transmission, and final distribution. The first consignment of packages sent with our shipment for general distribution has been reported received at Odessa but final arrangements for distribution had not been made. Certain technicalities in connection with our Agreement with the Soviet authorities require careful consideration and we are assured that our Director in Russia is giving this matter careful attention.

3. Final arrangements were made for the shipping of tractors. The first consignment was forwarded in July. Bro. G. G. Hiebert was engaged by the Committee to accompany them to Russia and to supervise the operation of them A special agreement was consumated with the Soviet Authorities for their operation in Russia and the first lot of twenty-five outfits have been in operation since September. According to cable reports received to date about 3000 acres have been plowed in the Ukraine. Another lot of 25 outfits has been purchased and is being forwarded from New York this month. These additional outfits are to be distributed to other communities including the Volga communities. Special contributions have been received for the purchase of these outfits but we need additional pledges to cover the balance taken from the general funds. We will need 23 pledges more of $560 00 each.

4 We were not able to increase our budgets for June and July to the $50,000 00 which had been called for by our workers on the field. The highest amount sent having been $30,000.00 for July. We have however been able to exceed our minimum amount pledged for the balance of the year. We were permitted to send $25,000 00 each for the months of June and August and $20 000.00 each for Sept., Oct., Nov., and December.

We note a few changes in our personnel in Russia since our last meeting. Brother P. C. Hiebert has returned and has brought a valuable report. We welcome him anew to his usual duties as Chairman of our Committee. G. G. Hiebert has been sent to the field to supervise the operation of the tractors. Bro. and Sister D. M. Hofer have been sent to the field to assist in the general distribution work. Peter H. Unruh has also been sent for this same purpose. We are expecting the return of C. E. Krehbiel soon. Arthur W. Slagel has been granted permission to return for several months vacation.

The outlook for the coming year is quite promising but we dare not lose sight of the fact that renewed famine is yet a possibility if we are not able to meet the needs of the people for the next six or eight months. It is quite probable that by the return of another harvest this danger will have been past. However, the after-effects of famine will not have been forgotten and our work will not be complete until we have helped our brethren back to a normal self-existence. It is quite evident that we will need to continue our tractor program for another year at least, to accomplish this purpose. It will be the duty of this Committee to provide for the successful termination of this special work. It will be necessary also to take definite action at this meeting in fixing a minimum budget for food purchases until our next meeting.

OUR FUTURE RELIEF WORK

Levi Mumaw

It would be quite impossible to outline a definite program for doing relief work for a number of years as you would expect an active Mission Board to outline its work for the future. The one great task of a relief organization is to meet emergencies as they arise. To do this however there must be a general outline of policies and readiness for action.

The Mennonite Relief Commission for War Sufferers has a definite task at hand, not only to continue the work in Russia, which has been emphasized thru the special appeals made, but also to meet the needs in India where famine has left its mark upon many. The needs in Germany will be very acute during the first six months of the coming year. The Near East is bringing new problems with the changing political conditions.

We naturally think of Russia as our first obligation because of our larger responsibilities in connection with the work. It is true however that India is also a very important field and will need our support although to a lesser degree. In Russia the pangs of famine have been broken but to avoid a recurrence it will be necessary to continue our present program for the next eight months. There has been a harvest and certain ones have been permitted to reap but according to reports many will be dependent on our help until another season reaches them.

A recent report of a meeting held in Russia of the official relief organizations of the Russian government gives the following statement:

"By the quality of products, which were delivered, the first place belongs to the French Red Cross, then go to the Mennonites, Nansen's mission and fifth place is occupied by the A. R. A." Brother A. J. Miller advises us that the "quality" referred to nature of work and has special reference to tractors and agricultural work. This naturally brings us to the conclusion that our Tractor program is of great importance and must have a place in our further activities. To what extent this shall have attention and development, is yet a matter for consideration and action by the Mennonite Central Committee. I am sure we will want to cooperate in the work to the greatest extent possible. The reports concerning the work done this fall by the twenty-five outfits now on the field are very encouraging and is only an index of what may be accomplished next year.

The Mennonite Relief Commission has obligated itself to supply $200.00 per month for relief work in India which is needed in connection with the special pledges for the support of the orphans under the care of the Mission Stations. This seems like a very easy task when compared with our larger activities but need not be considered as unimportant.

The work in Germany is a very complex problem. It is being predicted that there will be much suffering among the older people who cannot work or earn a livelihood thru the use of their hands at the present wages or value of the Mark. The needs for the Lechfeld work are not yet supplied. About $2,000.00 is needed to cover the special loan, on which an annual interest of 4 per cent is being paid, for a period of five years. Efforts are being made to assist certain families to America and Canada. This will require a considerable amount of funds which will probably be supplied on a loan basis rather than by direct donations.

Our workers in the Near East serving under the Near East Relief will have completed their two years of service, for which they had pledged themselves, during the coming year. We are not expecting further calls for workers from this angle. There will however be continuous pleas for funds for this work. The needs are largely governed by orphanage and refugee work. The Mennonite Relief Commission stands ready to give any assistance possible in the work and for the receiving and forwarding of funds entrusted to it for that purpose.

Our Bible Leader

OXFORD CONCORDANCE BIBLE

INDIA PAPER EDITION

With Oxford Subject Index, References, Dictionary of Scripture Proper Names, Concordance and Maps.

In the Dictionary of Scripture Proper Names will be found the correct pronunciation of all proper names, their meaning and where they are referred to in the Bible.

The Subject Index gives a list of hundreds of important subjects with analytical index, which will be found a great help to ministers and evangelists in preparing sermons and all who study the Bible.

The Concordance enables one to find thousands of Scripture verses if only an important word in a verse is recalled.

Our Bible Leader will appeal to many as it is a close second to our Bible Special which we had offered heretofore and which was a very popular Bible. It is noted for its small compass, clear black face type, complete Concordance, list of maps, etc.

Do You Want To Make A PROFITABLE INVESTMENT?

The above illustration represents the new building accommodating the plant and offices of the Mennonite Publishing House directed and controlled by the Mennonite Publication Board for the purpose of publishing and disseminating of Christian literature.

Many have already taken advantage of making an investment with the institution and eternity alone will reveal the final results of these considerations. Every Christian home recognizes the need of good literature. Will you help to supply it? Please note the following forms which are now being offered.

1. Donations. Past records will show that the money given for this cause has increased in value three-fold while it has been possible to supply our homes with religious literature and at the same time make direct contributions to our mission stations, charitable institutions, and educational work. Every home that has been touched by our periodicals has been benefited in one way or another.

2. Annuities. Five and Six percent cash annuities are offered to any one wishing to place $100.00 or more. By this method the donor will receive the interest semi-annually in cash during his natural lifetime. The Gospel Herald and Christian Monitor Annuities are also offered thru which the equivalent of five percent is realized during a natural life time in the form of the periodicals. A mutual arrangement which is helpful both to the institution as well as to the annuitant.

3. Loans. The Mennonite Publication Board has assumed responsibility of providing $50,000.00 of the cost of the building. A part of this amount will be provided thru direct loans at a rate of interest as may be determined not to exceed six per cent per annum. A splendid opportunity to those who may have money available for this purpose. Interest payments are made promptly when due and the principal can be used for a period ranging from one to five years. Thirty days notice is required before withdrawal at interest paying periods.
